TIPS FOR TEACHING PARENTS

The basic purpose of these lessons is to encourage daily Bible study in our homes. They may provide a good guide for Bible study in other settings, but our primary purpose is to assist daily family Bible study. All the tips we offer to improve teaching techniques are worthless to parents who never sit down to study God's word with their children. Parents who lack the love of spiritual things so that they do not even care if their children learn the Bible don't need tips like these. Sadly, our children are still learning from those of us who lack the time or desire to study with them. They are learning that Bible study really isn't important.

All of us teach our kids countless facts about the world they live in. We may even teach them a wealth of religious knowledge. But the thing we teach them most unforgettably is our values. From us they learn what to strive for in life. As they watch our lives, do our children learn to "seek the things that are above"? Are we teaching our children, above all else, to "follow Christ"?

FOR ADULT STUDY: Jn 8:12; 10:27; Eph 5:1-2; 5:23-25; 4:32; Rom 15:1-7; 1 Thes 1:16; Phil 2:1-8.
